

THE PHILIPPOUX PICTURE OF THE BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG TO BE BROUGHT HERE

Washington People are Financing the Project. — Work to Start on Building at an Early Date.

Gettysburg will have on exhibition in 1913 the celebrated picture of the Battle by Paul Philippoteaux is the declaration of Gurnon R. Scott and E. D. Turnure of Washington, D. C., who visited this place on Monday. When it became intimated that the purpose of their visit was the consideration of the project, they corrected and said the matter had been fully considered and that the picture would be brought here and placed in a building that would be erected at a very early date.

Messrs. Scott and Turnure declared the purpose of their visit was to secure the names of at least three people who would make application for a charter of incorporation for a company. These names it is understood were secured and steps will be taken at once to incorporate the company. As soon as incorporated they declare contracts will be made for the erection of a metal building in which to place the picture, a contract having already been secured with the owner of the picture for its exhibition.

Messrs. Scott and Turnure took up matter of the location of the building and viewed a number of sites and it is understood secured options on one or more lots which in their judgment were most available for their purposes. The land of Wm. H. Johns immediately south of the little stone house on Emmitsburg road where body of General Reynolds was taken and the Crosta lot at the reservoir of the Water Co., were two of the sites viewed.

The visitors said that the picture to be brought to Gettysburg was the original painting by Paul Philippoteaux and not one of the copies of the same. That the original canvass while individually owned had been in safe keeping by the government for some time, having been last exhibited in the Pension Building in Washington. This original painting is the one that is of greatest value and is the one that will be acquired by the government if any is ever bought by it, and there is quite a sentiment that the government should buy this picture and put it in a permanent building on the battlefield of Gettysburg.

Philippoteaux, the artist spent two years in the painting of the picture and received $50,000 for the painting. Many of our people remember the artist when he visited this place, spending weeks here gathering material for his great picture, and it has seemed to many of our people that the natural and appropriate place for the ultimate housing of this great picture should be at Gettysburg, where the many thousands of people who come here annually could view it.

Messrs. Scott and Turnure declared that the financing of the undertaking had been practically completed. That the building to be erected would be of metal and the building and hanging of picture complete was estimated could be done for at least $10,000. That half that sum was already in sight in Washington. Mr. C. O. Howard, son of the late General O. O. Howard was one of the chief backers of the enterprise. It was said that Gettysburg would not be asked to subscribe for any of the stock, but if there were those in town believed the project a good one, as it was believed to be in Washington it might be possible to secure some of the stock but unless asked for none would be offered here. The Washington visitors believed the crowd that will come to Gettysburg in 1913 would be of such gigantic proportions that in the single year of 1913 it would be possible to have such a number visit the exhibition of the great picture as would more than pay for all outlay in erection of building and hanging the picture here.

The Washington visitors were asked to consider in the erection of building, the possibility of converting the auditorium into a convention assembly room, so that it should be possible for Gettysburg to go after conventions having thousands of delegates. This purpose they declared would be most carefully considered. They will need a plot of ground 175 by 175 feet and they believed it entirely practicable to arrange for convention purposes a space 125 by 125 feet which would comfortably take care of several thousand persons.

Messrs. Scott and Turnure made the trip here by automobile and after reaching the good roads of the battlefield met with an unfortunate accident. Shortly after striking the avenue a tire went to pieces and they came to town on the rim with result that wheel was wrecked and they had to telegraph for a new wheel.

Gettysburg Classis.

The Gettysburg Classis of the Reformed Church was in session in Spring Grove on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of last week. Among the ministers present were Rev. T. J. Barkley, D.D., of this place, Rev. F. B. Lindaman, D.D., and Rev. Geo. S. Butz, Ph.D., of Littlestown, Rev. W. A. Korn, Ph.D., of New Oxford, Rev. Wm. H. Miller, of East Berlin, Rev. T. C. Hesson, of Arendtsville, Rev. J. Stewart Hartman, of the Hoffman Orphanage. The Classis takes in the western part of York county and the whole of Adams county, representing over 20 different Reformed congregations.

The classis met on Tuesday evening electing Rev. George W. Welsh, pastor of the Spring Grove church as president, Rev. J. H. Hartman, of Hanover, vice president, Rev. T. C. Hesson, of Arendtsville, corresponding secretary, Rev. Dr. T. J. Barkley, of Gettysburg, clerk.

On Wednesday morning the various committees were announced and reports received and two candidates E. R. Hamm and C. Irwin Lau were heard.

An overture was presented signed by 44 people asking to be incorporated into a new congregation to be known as the Trinity Reformed church of Biglerville, this county and a committee was appointed to effect the organization of the new congregation.

The matter of union of the Reformed and Presbyterian churches in the United States was discussed and decision postponed.

The question was warmly debated, some seeing in the proposed change a distinct advantage to both denominations in the ability to do better work and the cutting down of expenses, while on the other hand many feared that the Reformed church would be absorbed and the schools and colleges of the denomination injured.

Thursday was devoted to reports of committees and business of the Classis. Addresses were made by Rev. J. H. Apple, Dr. George L. Omwake and Rev. G. S. Butz. At the last session classis adjourned to meet next year at Christ church, Littlestown, Rev. F. S. Lindaman, pastor.

College Commencement.

The Eightieth Commencement of Gettysburg College will be celebrated in about three weeks and it will be specially gratifying to have the sons of Old Gettysburg return this Commencement. How handsomely the old town has responded to the appeals that have been made to her citizens toward the additional endowment fund of $200,000.

The committee in charge of gathering subscriptions at a recent meeting reported that a partial canvass of the town had resulted in $9,000 and the work would go forward so as to be able to give a report of the town by June 1, 1912. That the old town is responding handsomely is the opinion of all those who know the facts and if the larger towns and cities nearby in which the Lutheran denomination is strong responds proportionally taking into account numbers and wealth, the work of raising the endowment is assured. Each Commencement will be welcomed by Gettysburg with an exhibition of good will by her people to the old institution. The program for the week is as follows:

SUNDAY, JUNE 9.
Baccalaureate address by President William A. Granville, Ph.D., LL.D., College church, 10:30 A. M.

Young Men's Christian Association Commencement Song Service, front of Old Dorm, 6 P. M.

Address before the College Y. M. C. A., by Robert Weidensall, Honorary International Secretary Young Men's Christian Association, class '60, College Church, 8 P. M.

MONDAY, JUNE 10.
Concert by the combined musical clubs of the College, Brua Chapel, 8 P. M.

TUESDAY, JUNE 11.
Meeting of Board of Trustees, Glatfelter Hall, 8 A. M.
Junior Oratorical Contest for the Reddick Prize, Brua Chapel, 10 A. M.
Senior class day exercises, including presentation and dedication of class memorial, college campus, 2 P. M.

President and Mrs. Granville's reception to the alumni and friends of the College, "White House," eight to ten o'clock.

A number of class and fraternity reunions will be held during the day and evening.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 12.
Graduating exercises, Brua Chapel, 10 A. M.

Salutatory, by Mr. John G. Fleck, of the graduating class.

Commencement address by the Honorable Harry M. Claiborn, LL.D., Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, District of Columbia, class of '77.

Valedictory by Mr. Carl C. Rasmussen of the graduating class.

Conferring of degrees and announcement of prizes by President Granville. Glatfelter memorial exercises, with an address by President Emeritus H. W. McKnight, D.D., LL.D., 11:40 A. M.

Alumni collation, and annual meeting of Alumni Association, Glatfelter Hall, 12:15 P. M.

The College Orchestra will provide the music for all the College events of the week.

Pensions for Veterans.

On another page will be found a resume of the Act of May 11, 1912 providing for service pension to veterans. There are a few points to be noted by veterans which appear in the complete act now at hand.

The service pensions shall commence from the date of filing of the applications to the Bureau of Pensions and no pension attorney, claim agent or other person shall be entitled to receive any compensation for services in presenting or securing pension. That no person shall receive a pension under any other law at the same time he is receiving a pension under the new act, and no person is pensionable under the new act who is receiving a greater amount under another act. The Act also applies to Veterans of the War with Mexico.

—Rev. Dr. A. E. Pasick of Carlisle, District Superintendent, will preach in the Methodist Church of this place on Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

MEMORIAL DAY PLANS

GENERAL ORDERS FOR THE DAY BY THE G. A. R.

Program as Locally Arranged and Also of Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers

General orders have gone out to all the Grand Army posts from the G. A. R. headquarters for the observance of Memorial Day as follows:

"But the Reapers have been relentlessly wielding his sickle furnishing a constant reminder, that year by year the number of the survivors becomes smaller, and year by year the number of graves, to be strewn with flowers is growing larger. Forty thousand new graves are to be decorated the coming Memorial Day.

"Thus reminded that the time is fast approaching when survivors of the war can no longer keep up the proper observance of Memorial Day, shall the observance of the day cease in any community when the bugle has sounded 'taps' at the grave of the last survivor? If not, it becomes a matter of the greatest importance everywhere, so to interest the people at large in the beautiful and suggestive ceremonies of Memorial Day, that they will recognize and adopt it as their day now; theirs to celebrate now jointly with the 'survivors of the war'; theirs to celebrate alone when the last survivor shall have passed away.

"In this way, and in this way only, will the perpetuity of Memorial Day be assured, and so long as the nation shall live the choicest flowers of garden and field and woodland shall be summoned, each successive thirtieth of May, to bear their silent testimony to the gratitude of a nation saved."

In closing, the order sets forth: that the Posts making arrangements associate with them Women's Relief Corps, Sons of Veterans, Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic, and the Daughters of Veterans, and invite all other patriotic societies, especially the volunteers of the Spanish War, and the Philippine Insurrection, to take part in the celebration of the day.

It is further ordered that as a part of the public exercises bells be tolled from twelve to twelve five, that flags be placed at half mast and that comrades stand with uncovered heads while the bells are tolling. It is requested that the day be emphasized.

Memorial Day is not the proper name.

Memorial Day in Gettysburg.

Following is the program for the Memorial Day exercises:

The Memorial Committee of Post 9 G. A. R. cordially invites all the schools of Gettysburg, Patriotic Societies, Spanish American War survivors and Sons of Veterans to join with us on Memorial Day to honor the memory of the men who died that this great Union of ours might live and we also request our people to bring to the Post on the morning of Memorial Day flowers to decorate the graves of our departed comrades.

W. T. ZIEGLER
THEO. MCALLISTER
NICHOLAS WIERMAN
Committee.

Brotherhood Plans.

The committee on program for the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers have their plans completed for Memorial Day. The chairman of this committee is Ira J. Mowry, of Harrisburg. They are the guests of the Reading Railway on the trip from Harrisburg to Gettysburg and will arrive at 7:45 and 8 o'clock in the morning. They will go to Round Top and the Battlefield will be explained to them by George Linn Kieffer. They will come back to the cemetery and to the tent to be erected on Crosta lot for lunch at the noon hour. The ladies of the Mite Society of St. James Lutheran church will serve the lunch and there will be tables to seat 2000 persons. After luncheon the following program will take place at the tent, and the College Orchestra will furnish the music for the occasion.

Address of Welcome by Judge S. McC. Swope.

Response by Warren S. Stone, Grand Chief Engineer of the Brotherhood.

Address by Col. Theodore Roosevelt.

At the conclusion of this meeting the guests of honor will go to the Square to take part in local arrangements. The parade will pass through the Locomotive Engineers as they shall be lined up at their tent and they will fall into line to go to the exercises in the cemetery.

Visitors of Note.

On last Friday President F. Baer, of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad with party arrived in Gettysburg by special train composed of the Reading's two private cars "Schuykill" and "Philadelphia." The cars were placed on siding at depot and President Baer and his guests lived in their cars.

The party of friends with President Baer were Dr. S. Weir Mitchell, the world famous physician and novelist, General Charles Francis Adams, General John M. Wilson, Colonel Shore, an English Army officer, John Cadwalader, of Philadelphia, Dr. W. F. Muhlenberg a Reading physician and a graduate of Gettysburg College in class of 1868, Theodore Vorhees, first vice president of the Reading and A. T. Dice, General manager of the Reading. The party spent Friday afternoon and Saturday morning on the battlefield.

Among other things it was said that Gen. Adams came to locate if possible the spot where he was wounded in the battle. Gen. Adams has been here frequently but had never been able to locate the spot but had some new light and hoped to find it.

It was also said that Dr. S. Weir Mitchell is writing a new novel and has used Gettysburg, in which to locate part of his story and that he came to verify certain details.

Brotherhood Conference.

The National Conference of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, 29th to June 6th, has required much preparation for the throng expected to be in attendance. Plans for the lodging and boarding of the Brethren have been going forward on a large scale.

There are four separate programs for the conference, one in the tabernacle, the tent on the fair grounds, the first church of the Brethren in York and for the Sunday School meetings. Among the questions that will be given consideration are those of peace, child rescue and temperance.

Among the men prominent in the church and well known in this county are the following: C. D. Bonessack of Frederick, Md., will deliver a sermon on "The Teaching of Jesus on Home Relations" and D. Victor Long will speak on "What is a Missionary, by Whom Sent and Methods of Work." The speakers come from all parts of the country and the work of the church will be ably presented to those in attendance.

Gettysburg people believe that the willingness of the town to have taken care of this conference and the subscription made for such purpose of $3,000 before the decision was made in favor of York as well as the great attractions of this place will be the incentive to bring many of the Brethren on a visit to Gettysburg.

Seminary Trustees Meet.

The Board of Trustees of the Lutheran Theological Seminary of Gettysburg met on last Thursday morning and former officers of the board were re-elected as follows: Dr. E. D. Weigle, of White Hill, president; Dr. John Wagner, of Hazelton, vice president; Harry C. Picking, of Gettysburg, secretary and the Citizens Trust Company of Gettysburg treasurer. The report of the treasurer was found most gratifying. The general endowment, professorship, library and scholarships reached a total of $266,028.63 and practically all of this one quarter of a million dollars safely invested in mortgages, judgments, bonds and stocks, and all bills and obligations fully settled. The Seminary, land and buildings entirely unencumbered is estimated to be worth fully $250,000, so that the capital of this institution at the present time can be said to be more than a half million dollars. The meeting of the Board was largely routine. A few more walks were authorized.

On Wednesday evening Rev. J. T. Huddle, of Washington, D. C., delivered the annual address before the alumni in the Seminary Chapel, his subject being, "The Religious Forces in America." An informal reception followed in the rectory, where refreshments were served and after the feasting Dr. A. R. Steck, of York acted as toastmaster and speeches were made by Dr. L. B. Wolf, Dr. L. M. Zimmerman, Dr. John Bowers and Dr. W. H. Dunbar, of Baltimore and D. M. Moser, of Gettysburg.

On Wednesday afternoon eleven members of the graduating class delivered their graduating thesis in the Seminary Chapel and on Thursday evening the graduating exercises were held in the College church, the program of which was published in our last issue with names of graduates.

PORTRAITS OF GETTYSBURG'S BUSINESS MEN.

DORSEY DOUGHERTY.

A member of the dry goods firm of Dougherty & Hartley, explains the success of his firm with the words "hard work." Mr. Dougherty was born in Cumberland township and began mercantile work in early life, starting as a clerk in a dry goods store in Reisterstown, Md., where he lived ten years. The next seven years he spent in the store of G. W. Weaver & Son of this place. In 1892 the firm of Dougherty & Hartley was formed buying the dry goods store of C. P. Gettler, and practically going into debt for the entire purchase money but by hard work and good management the firm worked itself out of debt and into the strong financial position they hold today. About six years ago this firm took over the insurance business of H. C. Picking, when the latter entered the Gettysburg National Bank and have succeeded with this business by giving to it the same devotion to work and management as to their store.

Rapid Progress in Building.

C. S. Reaser, general manager of the Gettysburg Furniture Company is making very rapid progress in the erection of buildings for the new plant. In his own words "When there is something to be done the quickest way to have it done is to go ahead and do it," and he has certainly applied this rule in the present undertaking.

The brick walls of the mill room have been completed for some days and the roof is to go on this room this week. The walls of the dry kiln are up and roof is on and the inside rigging is being put in place. The boilers have been received, placed and are waited in. The foundation for the big 250 horse power engine has been completed. The engine is on the ground on cars and is being unloaded this week and put in place. A siding has been built by the W. M. R. R. Co. to the building and arrangements are being made by which lumber can be unloaded from cars on this siding to trucks on tracks which will convey it into the dry kiln and from there to the mill room so that all labor of handling can be saved until ready for the mill room.

Mr. Reaser is rushing that part of the plant which will permit of the immediate erection of machinery, so that the manufacture of china closets can begin at an early date and declares that they will be making china closets in June. The work of the erection of the remainder of plant as planned will go forward at the same time.

A Linen Shower.

Miss Ruth E. Martin, of Harrisburg, a niece of Senator Wm. A. Martin of this place and a coming bride was given a real linen shower one evening last week by a number of her friends.

All unsuspecting, the bride elect was blindfolded, taken in and out through the rooms and finally seated under the parlor chandelier, from which was suspended a huge wedding bell of white and greenery. At a given signal cords were pulled and amid shouts of laughter a shower of linen fell all about Miss Martin, who was quickly unsmiled and allowed to examine the lovely gifts.

Released from Jail.

Jason Seifert, who has been in the Gettysburg jail since the shooting of Bernice Carbaugh, at Maria Furnace, on March 20, charged with assisting in the shooting, was finally discharged at a hearing held on Saturday before Squire J. Arthur Spangler, in Hamilton township, Adams county. The hearing was postponed until the above date on account of Miss Carbaugh's long confinement in the York hospital. District Attorney Robert E. Wible appeared at the hearing for the commonwealth and Edward A. Weaver, Esq., for the defendant.

TOWN COUNCIL MEETING

MARTIN WINTER PRESENTS
GOOD IDEA AS TO R. R. BRIDGE.

Committee Appointed to see whether W. M. would not make New Bridge with Room for Roadway.

At the regular May meeting of the Town Council the following communication from Martin Winter was received, approved and placed in the hands of Councilman Keith and Borough Attorney Wible to confer upon with W. M. R. R. officials. "I beg to submit herewith for your consideration a suggestion. The East End of town for the past ten years has been growing, or rather building up, rapidly. There is every reason to believe that the next ten years will show still more growth. All that section of the East End lying north of the W. M. R. R. is handicapped by the fact that it is shut off from the portion south of the W. M. R. R. except by the single crossing at Fourth street.

"The distance from Stratton street to Fourth street is 1400 feet, and the distance from Fourth street to a proposed street running north and south near the borough limits is 1200 feet, a distance of one half mile with only one railroad crossing.

"This condition of things affects not only the extension of Railroad street but the proposed extension of Water street, Stevens street and Lincoln street, a total of about two miles of street.

"The suggestion is this: that the town council arrange with the W. M. R. Co. that the west end span of the new steel bridge which it is proposed to erect over Rock Creek, the plans for which I understand are now being made up, be so constructed that there be a public driveway under the bridge at the west end span.

"There is of course no immediate necessity for this crossing, but there will be such necessity in a very few years, and it is the only opportunity there will likely ever be, it would be good business to make the arrangement while it is probably possible to do so.

"The reason there will never be another opportunity to cross the W. M. R. Co. tracks is that a crossing at grade is prohibited and the borough of Gettysburg will never go to the expense of constructing either an underground or overhead crossing.

The matter of concrete pavements in southeast and southwest corner of the square was discussed favorably but action deferred until a meeting later in the month.

Appropriation of $10 for sprinkler was authorized and $10 toward each of the new uniforms of policemen.

A petition was presented asking town to build curb on Hanover street between Fourth and Fifth streets, but council was of the opinion that building of curb should be postponed until erection of houses now contemplated are completed. Several residents on Hanover street were asked to make pavements.

Agreement taking over the A. J. Smith private sewer was ratified.

A letter was read from former borough surveyor Forman asking payment of $45 he claimed was due and upon payment he would turn over borough papers.

The annexation of Seminary property was deferred until next meeting of council.

No action was taken on request of Amos Eckert for permission to erect post card, souvenir building in northwest corner of Square extending four feet from building line.

Will of Mrs. Galbraith.

The will of Harriet E. Galbraith, widow of Henry Galbraith, makes the following provisions: $200 to the trustees of the Marsh Creek Presbyterian church in trust, the interest to be paid towards the salary of the pastor; $200 to the same as a perpetual endowment for the maintenance and care of the graves of her father and mother; $200 to the trustees of St. James Lutheran church, the interest to be used towards the payment of the pastor's salary; $25 to Mrs. Edward Culp; $50 to Mrs. Howard J. Harman; $300 to Jane Quiggle as a remembrance of her kindness and attention; $500 to her brother, George Washington Irwin; $100 to Mary Irwin Kugler. The residue of the estate is bequeathed to the Citizens Trust Company, the principal to be invested and the annual income to be paid to George Washington Irwin during his life and at his death the fund less all legal expenses and charges, is bequeathed to Viola Ida Irwin, Charles Irwin, Logan Irwin and Hattie Irwin, children of George W. Irwin in equal shares. Howard J. Hartman is named as executor.

First Political Meeting.

At a Democratic gathering last week in York, former Judge John W. Bittenger, Democratic elector from this district spoke. He complimented the party upon the evidences of unity, saying that the cause of Democracy is a great one, and that York county has always been faithful to the principles of Jefferson. Judge Bittenger remarked that Lincoln had accepted the principles of Jefferson, thus laying the foundation of his own fame and furnishing the chief reason for the Republican power since the Civil war. He gave high praise to William Jennings Bryan, whose name was greeted with hearty cheers. The applause was repeated when he said that the party is fortunate in having another man of like character to Bryan, Governor Wilson, of New Jersey. He spoke in high praise of Wilson, and told how his fame had spread all over the country. Governor Wilson's selection, he said, will depend upon the display of wisdom on the part of the party leaders, but whether he or any one of the other Democratic candidates shall be chosen, the country is assured of the best kind of government. Attention was called to the fact that the Republicans have taken so many of the Democratic principles that it is now hard to distinguish in some instances which side is being presented. Calling attention to the harmonious settlement of the Democratic differences in the state, Judge Bittenger said that should be the keynote of the party in York county. The Democratic party, he said, is the party of reform. This reform is needed. It is time for it, we must have an honest government economically administered. This is the public demand and if the Democratic party does not rise to its possibilities, then it will come through the Republican party, for it has got to come. He declared that leaders, not bosses, are wanted. Leaders are chosen by the people and work for the interests of the people, while the bosses fasten themselves upon the party for selfish purposes.

Andrew R. Brodbeck, Democratic candidate for Congress, also spoke, saying:

It was inspiring to see so many active and vigorous Democrats gathered in the convention. Conditions are such that all should determine to get into this fight and work to the utmost to return the Democratic party to power. He commented upon the fact that under false ideas of what Republicanism is the country has fallen behind, but already we have seen the results of the revolt now in progress in the shape of a Democratic house of representatives. Now he said, we should not be content with this but keep on until the government is Democratic from the President down and the responsibility is placed on the party which alone can remedy existing conditions. This, he added, means that there should be concentrated action all along the line. He called upon the Democrats to elect all the members of assembly in the county, saying in conclusion: "Let the keynote of this meeting be harmony. Let the delegates return home and tell the people there that there is no more party division in the county. Then set the vote out. We have not been defeated in the past by votes cast against us, but by voters who stayed at home."

New Church in New Oxford.

St. Paul's Reformed church of New Oxford is in the process of being torn down to make room for a handsome white limestone church to cost $15,000. The contract for the church was recently awarded to Eline Brothers of Littlestown.

The original church was a union church of the Reformed, Lutheran and Presbyterian congregations. In 1881 the Lutheran congregation sold out their interests to the Reformed for $400. At that time there was only one Presbyterian family to represent their interest, and it was given to the Reformed congregation with proviso that occasional service could be held by them in the new building. This was continued for awhile.

The pastor of the Reformed congregation at that time was Rev. C. I. Hoffmann who died in 1883, and was buried at Abbottstown.

The next pastor was Rev. W. F. Davis, who remained until 1872. During his pastorate the first organ was purchased.

Rev. Aaron Spangler now living at Myerstown, was the next pastor, who remained until 1886, during whose pastorate the parsonage was built.

Rev. W. H. Herbert, now of Nanticoke, was the next, who remained until 1893, during that time the church was remodeled and the Sunday school room built at a cost of $2,700. The side galleries were then removed.

Rev. P. E. Heimer, now of East Mauch Chunk, came next and remained until 1902, when he was succeeded by Rev. S. P. Mauger, now of Hanover, who remained until 1906. Rev. Wm. A. Korn, Ph.D., followed and is the present pastor.

The congregation will worship during the erection of new church in the New Oxford public school building.

Old Songs Revised.

A sigh for the song of the broken heart!

A smile for the song of cheer! But how shall we answer the songs that start

As the days of campaign draw near? Sing hey for the tariff! Tra la for the trusts!

For the railroads sing tury-li-oh! Each melody sounds while it's going the rounds

Like an echo from long, long ago. We take up the chorus with lusty shout.

At the music we never balk. You don't have to know what you're singing about

So it's better to sing than talk. Then it's derry-down-derry with graft that we view!

Fo-fo-fo for reforms that are slow. We will warble a few—though the tunes are not new—

Of the songs of the long, long ago. —From the Washington Star.

Wilson Can Carry Pennsylvania.

Representative A. Mitchell Palmer, one of the leaders of the Democratic party in Pennsylvania and a member of the House Ways and Means Committee recently declared his confidence that if Gov. Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey, is nominated by the Democrats for the Presidency by the Baltimore convention, he will swing to the Democratic column this fall the 38 electoral votes of the Keystone State. "From the beginning of the campaign for the Presidential nomination, Mr. Palmer said, 'I have believed that with Governor Wilson as our candidate we would have a chance to carry Pennsylvania this fall, owing to the widespread dissatisfaction among the Republicans of the State with the Penrose machine and the great popularity of Governor Wilson with the better class of Republicans, as well as with all classes of Democrats.'

"The events of the last few weeks and especially in the Republican party in Pennsylvania have vastly increased the bitterness between the factions of the party and I am now confident that Governor Wilson will carry the State if he is the Democratic nominee for the Presidency.

"I think Governor Wilson would be almost as certain to carry Pennsylvania, whether the Republican nominee be Roosevelt or Taft, as he would be of carrying his own State of New Jersey.

Origin of Colors in Yellowstone Park

That the harmonious and brilliant tints in the geysers and hot-spring pools are due mainly to plant life is one of the interesting statements made in a publication entitled "The Geological History of Yellowstone National Park," just issued by the Department of the Interior. Algae flourish equally well in the waters of all geyser basins and on the terraces of Mammoth Hot Springs. Wherever these boiling waters cool to the temperature of 185 degrees algaous growths appear, and by the lowering of the temperature on exposure to air still more highly organized forms gradually come in. It is said that at 140 degrees the conditions are favorable for the rapid growth of several species. The development of plant life at such excessive temperatures and on a scale of such magnitude seems a marvelous thing. Nowhere else can this be seen so well as in the Yellowstone Park.

As the water in shallow pools chills rapidly, corresponding changes of color follow. No life exists in the center where the water is boiling. On the outer edge certain colors prevail, and in the cooler overflow channels still others predominate. In a geyser basin, the first evidence of vegetation is an overflowing stream consists of creamy white filamentary threads, passing into light flesh tints and then to deep salmon. With distance from the source of heat, the predominating colors pass from bright orange to yellow, yellowish green, and emerald, and in the still cooler waters shades of brown.

The marvelous colors in the Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone are mainly due to mineral matter, the pigments being derived from the lavas. Along the base of the canyon thermal and solifactive agencies have been at work through long ages, slowly but steadily decomposing the rhyolite rock that forms the walls. Upon the buttressed walls and sculptured amphitheatres tints of green and yellow are intermingled with red, the colors being blended with singularly harmonious effects. From green forests at the top, the abrupt wall seem aglow with color.

This publication contains an account of the geologic forces that have caused the wonderful natural features that have made the Yellowstone famous throughout the world. It is illustrated by photographs of some of the principle features of the park and is written in nontechnical language so that it may readily understood by persons without scientific training.

Surprise Party.

A very enjoyable surprise party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Zinkand in honor of their daughter Edna on Wednesday evening, May 15, by her schoolmates. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Zinkand, Miss Anna Thomas, Sarah Weaver, Mazie Kroul, Gladys Ott, Anna Miller, Helen Pfeiffer, Anna Oiler, Irene McClean, Lillian Kitzmiller, Ethel Zinkand, Edna Zinkand, Charles Miller, Fred Pfeiffer, Martin Shealer, William Timmins, William Kendeheart, Herbert Oiler, Ralph Oiler, William Weaver, Robert Oiler, Robert Sheads and William Zinkand, Jr.

The evening was spent in playing games and lots of music after which refreshments were served and all returned home much pleased wishing Miss Edna many more such happy times.

New Bell Telephone Lines.

The Bell Telephone Company is locating an exchange in York Springs, in residence of A. C. Gardner. They have secured over 20 subscribers in York Springs and three farmer lines have been projected and several others are contemplated.

The farmer's line between York Springs and Roubidush's Mill will reach the following people: W. J. Asper, E. C. Keefer, J. A. Menges, A. F. Roubidush, Earl Miller, George Prosser, Orpheus Golden, Curtis I. Golden, Albert A. Miller, Andy Miller, J. A. Guise, John H. Smith, M. A. Bower, C. S. Pitenturf, and C. J. Weidner.

The Latimore line will have the following subscribers, Harry Starry, George W. Harbold, W. E. Brough, E. I. Bushey, Florence Utz and John W. Snyder.

The Huntingdon township will go to C. E. Pearson, W. A. Bream, George N. Bushey, John King, Harry Stitzel, Spencer Snyder and Francis Trostle. A number of other farmers are expected to be joined in with these lines.

ASK YOUR NEIGHBOR.

Hundreds of Gettysburg Citizens Can Tell You all About It.

Home endorsement, the public expression of Gettysburg people, should be evidence beyond dispute for every Gettysburg reader. Surely the experience of friends and neighbors, cheerfully given by them, will carry more weight than the utterances of strangers residing in faraway places. Read the following:

Mrs. Frank Sawney, 28 Breckenridge St., Gettysburg, Pa., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been used in my family with excellent results. I publicly endorsed them two years ago and hold just as high an opinion of them at this time. A member of my family was afflicted with kidney trouble for years and probably inherited it. This person suffered a great deal from pains in his back and sides and was unable to control the kidney secretions. A cold always aggravated the complaint. When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I procured a box at the People's Drug Store and their use effected a complete cure.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

TRY THIS
RICHMOND Suction Cleaner
IN YOUR OWN HOME 5 DAYS FREE

We want every woman in America to have the opportunity to try the RICHMOND Suction Cleaner in her own home. And to show our unbounded confidence in the machine, we've decided to send it out on 5 days free trial.

Use it as much as you like. Clean your carpets and rugs, your upholstery, curtains, walls, ceilings, mattresses, pillows, etc.

See for yourself how it makes everything as bright and new as the day it was bought. See how it cleans without raising a particle of dust, how it makes after dusting unnecessary. Watch it get the dirt from under heavy furniture, behind radiators and from other inaccessible places.

Try the nine special attachments which we furnish with every machine—the hair-drying tool, the tool for cleaning clothes, book-shelves, etc.

RICHMOND Suction Cleaner

Compare this easy, pleasant method of cleaning with the disagreeable backaching drudgery of brooms, mops and dusters.

Put the machine in every test you can think of.

Then at the end of 5 days if you are willing to part with the machine simply notify us and we'll send for it.

On the other hand if you wish to keep the machine you can pay for it on Easy Monthly Payments out of the actual money which the machine saves for you.

A liberal discount will be allowed those who pay cash.

The experience of most purchasers is that the RICHMOND Suction Cleaner pays for itself in from twelve to thirty months.

It pays for itself, first, because it does away with the annual or semi-annual tear up called housecleaning (and housecleaning costs more than you think unless you have figured it out).

It pays for itself, second, because it doubles and triples the life of floorcoverings, hangings, furniture, wall paper, decorations, etc.

The RICHMOND Suction Cleaner weighs but 10 pounds. It can easily be carried upstairs, downstairs anywhere without the least fatigue. It is a truly portable cleaner.

A RICHMOND is built with a view to long durability and we cover it with the broadest possible guarantee. It is simple in construction. There is nothing to wear out. There are no gears, no diaphragms, no valves. Nothing to jiggle loose. To operate, simply attach to any electric lamp socket. Costs about one cent per hour to operate.

T. F. TURNER, Sole Agent for Richmond

Surely you must see that the RICHMOND Suction Cleaner must give perfect service, perfect satisfaction, day after day, month after month, else we could not afford this offer.

But don't take our word for it. Find out for yourself. Try a machine at our risk. If it doesn't make good—if it doesn't more than come up to your expectations, simply tell us to take it away. Could anything be more fair?

Remember it costs you nothing if you decide to keep the machine. All we ask is that $1.00 be deposited with us as evidence of good faith and to keep away triflers. The $1.00 will be refunded in case the machine is returned.

Prices Range from $40.00 to $85.00.

Mail the coupon and get full particulars. Do it now while you're thinking of it.

A LITTLE BIT HUMOROUS

Still Going.

The reporter was trying to get the particulars of the automobile accident.

"How fast were you going when you hit the obstruction?" he asked.

"About fifty miles an hour."

"Who was in the motor car with you?"

"Man named George Johnson."

"You landed, you say, in a cornfield to the right of the road. Where did Johnson land?"

"I don't know; we haven't found him yet."

Wedding Gift.

Husband of To-Morrow (reviewing wedding presents)—That awful crust seems familiar.

Wife of To-Morrow—Yes, dear, you saw it at the Browns. They got it as a wedding present, and gave it to the Smiths at theirs. It's the Smiths' present. But never mind, dear, Harry's wedding comes off soon!—London Opinion.

Laughter vs. Reform.

"I am convinced," said Shelley to his friend Hogg, "that there can be no entire regeneration of mankind until laughter is put down."

There have been moments for most of us in which we have felt inclined to agree with him; but these are, in general, unpleasing to recall.—London Nation.

Good for Something.

Friend—Excuse me, dear, but I can't say I think much of your cook.

Hostess—No, I should have sent her away ages ago, but she's so good at fortune telling by cards.—Fliegende Blätter.

Natural Tendency.

"What business do you think your son will adopt?"

"Can't say," replied Farmer Corn-tassel, "but judging by the hours Josh keeps, I should say he was naturally cut out to be a milkman."

FEMININE PREROGATIVE.

Ethel—I think it is Myrtle's place to propose to Harold.

Helen—Why?

Ethel—She knows whether she can support him or not.

A Philosopher.

"I never quarrel with my wife," remarked a placid man.

"When's she in a mood for strife, I simply rush the car."

As an Educational Force.

"What brought you here, my boy, at your tender age?" asked the philanthropic visitor at the jail. "Bad surroundings? Familiarity with crime?"

"Yes," said the boy with the tough mug, "been seein' too many o' them movin' pictur shows."

Balked.

Lawyer for Defendant—Now, sir, you say that my client disappeared in the darkness after knocking you down. What time of night was this?

Complainant—I can't say exactly. Your client had my watch.—Life.

Really How Clever.

1913—How do you make such a hit in society?

1911—Well, you see, I mistake all the debutantes for society leaders and all the society leaders for debutantes.—Princeton Tiger.

The Burden of It.

"The Muntoburns belong I suppose, to what you call the 'idle rich' class."

"Gracious, no! They're too rich for that."

So Graceful.

Mother—Professor, what do you think of little Arthur as a violinist?

Professor—I like the way he puts his hand into the case.

EVERY MOVE CREATES SOUND

Scientific Fact Not Known to All—Acuteness of Hearing Among the Lower Animals.

It is very difficult to make some persons believe that nothing can move without making a sound, although it may seem to be absolute silence to them. Everything that moves disturbs the air around it and sets up a kind of wave motion that spreads through the atmosphere in all directions. When these wave motions are strong enough a sound is heard. That nothing is heard is no evidence that there is no sound, for other living things may hear what men cannot.

The motion that is started in the air when anything vibrates or moves suddenly has often been compared to the motion of the surface of still water when we drop a pebble into a pond. But there is this great difference. The eye can see the wave made by the smallest glass bead you can find, but the ear is not nearly so sensitive, and unless the waves are pretty high in the atmosphere the human ear cannot detect them as sound.

The lower animals and birds have much better ears than human beings. A dog will prick up its ears at the sound of its master's voice, or a faint whistle, when it is an astonishing distance off. A man in Baltimore put his head out of the window and called his dog Jack, which he thought was chasing cats in the grounds of the blind asylum opposite.

The dog was sitting on the steps of a friend's house with the man's daughter, nearly half a mile away, and instantly jumped up and tore off home. It had heard that call.

A deer has been known to look up at the sound of a footstep that was still half a mile away in the woods.

BLIND MAN'S SIGHT RESTORED

Piece of Cornea From Dead Animal, Transplanted, Is Hailed as Triumph of Surgery.

The French Academy of Sciences announces the success of an operation on a blind man, performed seven months ago and watched carefully ever since.

A workman had an eye burned by quicklime, so that the cornea had become opaque. It has long been the dream of scientists to transplant the cornea from animals to man, but so far this has been tried without success.

This transparent cornea is one of the most delicate parts of the human organism. Very soon after death, or after the removal of the eye from a living person, for that matter, it becomes opaque and begins to break up.

But M. Magitot has found a way to preserve its transparency. In the case in question it had been kept a week before a piece of it was fitted into the depression made by removing a quarter-inch square section of the cornea of the blind man's eye.

Now, after seven months' observation by the surgeon, the eye is pronounced well, and he can see with it—dimly, it is true, but still he sees.

Venetian Palace Where Wagner Died.

Appropos of the return from her chateau in Styria of the Duchesse della Grazia to her palace in Venice, a Paris contemporary gives an interesting account of Vendramin, which is not only one of the most beautiful residences on the canal, but it is closely associated with the history of the city of the doges.

It was built in 1441. German princes occupied it at first. Then it passed into the possession of the duke of Mantua, who purchased it for 50,000 ducats of gold. It was the scene of great social events under the Archduke Charles Ferdinand of Austria and his wife, Anne de Medici, in 1652, and through them the palace has come into the possession of the present owners through marriage. It was here that Richard Wagner died in 1883. The desk at which he wrote "Tristan and Isolde" is carefully preserved. Some years ago a plaque was affixed to the palace showing its connection with the great composer.

Discomfited Masher.

A gray-haired masher, easily over sixty years of age, was given a cold reception when he endeavored to become acquainted with the wife of a well-known newspaper man recently.

The day was cold and rainy. The newspaper man's wife was standing holding an open umbrella. She was waiting for her car. The gray-bearded individual unannounced stooped under her umbrella, and stood beside her for an instant before he remarked:

"You seem to be waiting for some one."

He was nearly taken off his feet when the woman with a quick reply said, "I think you are mistaken, Santa Claus."

The gray-bearded individual left suddenly.

No Use.

Joannie was out walking with his nurse, who stopped with him to look at a funeral on his block. As the coffin was carried down the stoop Johnnie asked, "What is that?" Nurse replied, "That's the box Mr. Brown is in."

When asked that night to say his prayers he refused to do so. After much coaxing and questioning he was prevailed upon to tell the reason of his refusal.

"Cause God won't have time to-night to hear them, he'll be too busy unpacking Mr. Brown."

SERVICE PENSION LAW

VETERANS PENSIONS VARY ACCORDING TO SERVICE.

President Has Signed the Bill Providing for the New Pension Rating.

The McCumber service pension bill was finally passed by the House and Senate and was signed by the President last week. It is estimated to increase cost of pensions to government from $25,000,000 to $30,000,000. The following are the rates for the various terms of service.

That any person who served ninety days or more in the military or naval service of the United States during the late Civil War, who has been honorably discharged therefrom and who has reached the age of 62 years or over shall, upon making proof of such facts, be placed upon the pension roll and be entitled to receive a pension as follows:

In case such person has reached the age of 62 years and served ninety days, $13 a month; six months, $13.50 a month; one year, $14 a month; one and a half years, $14.50 a month; two years, $15 a month; two and a half years, $15.50 a month; three years or over, $16 a month.

In case such person has reached the age of 66 years and served ninety days, $15 a month; six months, $15.50 a month; one year, $16 a month; one and a half years, $16.50 a month; two years, $17 a month; two and a half years, $18 a month; three years or over, $19 a month.

In case such person has reached the age of 70 years and served ninety days, $18 a month; six months, $19 a month; one year, $20 a month; one and a half years, $21.50 a month; two years, $23 a month; two and a half years, $24 a month; three years or over, $25 a month.

In case such person has reached the age of 75 years and served ninety days, $21 a month; six months, $22.50 a month; one year, $24 a month; one and a half years, $27 a month; two years or over, $30 a month.

That any person who served in the military or naval service of the United States during the Civil War and received an honorable discharge and who was wounded in battle or in line of duty and who is now unfit for manual labor by reason thereof or who from disease or other causes incurred in line of duty resulting in his disability is now unable to perform manual labor shall be paid the maximum pension under this act, to wit, $30 a month, without regard to length of service or age.

That any person who has served sixty days or more in the military or naval service of the United States in the war with Mexico and has been honorably discharged therefrom shall, upon making like proof of such service, be entitled to receive a pension of $30 a month.

Pure Milk From Clean Dairies.

Milk is either our greatest blessing or our greatest curse. Good milk means health and strength. Bad milk brings with it disease and often death. Typhoid fever, tuberculosis and many other diseases are carried by impure milk. Therefore, it is important that the public takes an interest in the farmer and the dairy and sees that milk is carefully handled. Dirty, illventilated cowstables, which are not properly drained, are splendid breeding places for germs. Do not buy milk that comes from dairies such as these.

When you get milk make sure that it comes from a tuberculin tested herd. This means that none of the cows have tuberculosis. In the best type of dairy the cow is groomed before she is milked. She is not allowed to scratch her tail across her flanks and drop dirt and germs into the milk. The manure is removed from the stable each day. The yard is clean and dry. Convenient to the barn is a milk house where the milk is bottled. Here there is a sterilizer, steam, ice and everything else needed to keep the milk pure.

If you are interested in keeping well take an interest in the kind of milk that you drink and see that it comes from a good dairy farm. By Karl de Schweinitz, Executive Secretary Pennsylvania Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis.

TUMOR GROWTH BUNCHES

You will be glad to know of the successful non-surgical system of treatment. No knife, x-ray, radium or serum.

"I am a clergyman and G. A. R. veteran. I thank God that I went to the Binghamton Canceratorium and Sanitarium. I had 3 cancers on cheek and lip, one of 15 years duration. Other cancer doctors failed. My face is well. Scars hardly noticeable. A wonderful cure without knife or loss of blood under Dr. S. Andral Kilmer's De-Cancerizing system. My age was 67. I saw ladies being treated for cancers as large as saucers, who went away rejoicing. Send for Dr. S. Andral Kilmer's Red Book and see my picture and report. Gratitude and a desire to be of benefit to sufferers, impel me to state this for the public good."

NOVEL MASSAGE CREAM.

Perfect Skin Food that Removes Wrinkles and Clears Complexion

The most delicate skin will quickly respond to the soothing and tonic effects of Hokara and when this pure skin food is used, pimples are soon a thing of the past.

As a massage cream or after shaving it is unequalled, removing all irritations, and making the skin soft and velvety.

Apply a little to the hands or face after washing and surprise yourself with the dead skin that comes off.

Hokara is the only massage cream that is an antiseptic, and pimples, eczema and all skin blemishes soon disappear when it is used.

Although far superior to the ordinary massage creams and sold on a guarantee of "best you ever used or money back" yet the price is a trifle, only 25c for a liberal jar; larger size 50c.

Sold on a guarantee by L. M. Buchler.

Contract for New School Building

The New Oxford School Board on last Wednesday awarded the contract for the new public school building in that place to G. Harry Roth, contractor and builder of New Oxford. There were four bidders and the amounts ranged from $11,250 to $15,000. The new building will face on North Peters street. It will be of "T" shape, the main part to be 65 by 24 feet 6 inches in size, and the wing will be 48 feet wide and extend back 17 feet. The entire building will be two stories in height, of brick with concrete basement. It will be divided into four rooms, for school purposes while the basement will be divided into two apartments, with solid partitions, to be used as amusement rooms for the pupils. The building will have all modern conveniences and when completed will be a credit to New Oxford.

Thinks His Boils Beat the Record

"I believe I had the most painful boils that ever afflicted a human being. They were big, came one after another, and held on a long time. I had read so much about Hood's Sarsaparilla for the blood that I was ready to try it. Inside of a month it seemed to me I had jumped from torture to bliss. I realized to the utmost the good of the best medicine, and I think the only medicine that would cure me. I recommend Hood's for the blood." Geo. N. ## WEEK'S RECORD OF DEATHS

ANDREW KEEFER WELL KNOWN VETERAN PASSES AWAY.

Death Claims Wife of Ex-Commissioner D. H. Fink of New Oxford—Other Deaths in County.

ANDREW KEEFER died Saturday, May 11, at his home in McSherrytown, aged 71 years. He was a native of the county, a son of Henry Keffer of Mt. Pleasant township. Mr. Keffer was a carpenter in his young days. He was a veteran of the Civil war, having enlisted Oct. 16, 1862, under the late Wm. H. Bragonier, in company H, 165th Regiment Pennsylvania militia and was honorably discharged in July, 1863, at Gettysburg. He enlisted Aug. 27, 1864, in Company I, 205th Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers. He was again honorably discharged June 2, 1865, at Alexandria, Virginia. After returning from the army he was engaged in farming until about 18 years ago, when he moved to McSherrytown, and lived there until his death. Serving several terms as constable of that borough. Funeral was on last Tuesday, May 14, high mass of requiem in St. Mary's church, McSherrytown, Rev. L. Aug. Reudter officiating. Interment in St. Mary's cemetery. He leaves a widow, one brother, Frank Keffer, of Oxford Road, and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Staub, of York, and Mrs. Jacob Little, of McSherrytown. He was married three times, his first wife being Miss Margaret Alwine, of Conowingo township. Born to them were two daughters, Mrs. Joseph Eckerdode, of Steelton, and Mrs. Agnes Chambers, of Philadelphia. His second wife was Miss Mary Yake, of Oxford township. Of this union one daughter, Mrs. George Ritters, of Midway survives. His third wife was Miss Agnes Hemler, of Mt. Pleasant township, to whom he was married in 1882.

TRY TO BE HAPPY

AT LEAST ONE MAY ATTEMPT TO CULTIVATE CHEERFULNESS.

According to Philosophers, the Possession of a Joyous Disposition is Worth More Than an Annuity of Generous Proportions.

Pleasantly entertaining the auditors in Judge Cabaniss's court the other day, the attorney for Mrs. Charles Wesley Reed spoke some eloquent words on the philosophy of cheerfulness. "A cheerful nature," he said, "like a Claude Lorraine glass, tingles all objects with sunlight." And he quoted with approval Hume's remark that it is better to be born with a cheerful disposition than with an income of ten thousand pounds.

Lifting the attorney's relations from their environment of personal application to Mr. Reed, there is much to be commended in what the lawyer said, declares the San Francisco Chronicle. "Cheerfulness is, indeed, greatly to be desired in the world, though whether a cheerful nature is necessarily a more valuable possession than ten thousand pounds a year may be open to some argument. It is possible, for instance, that ten thousand pounds a year might of itself procure at least a type of cheerfulness."

But of the general usefulness of being happy there can be no two opinions. The man who sings at his work, whatever his occupation, can do more in the same time and do it better than the one who follows his pursuit in silent sullenness. Efforts to be permanently useful must be uniformly joyous, for what the sunshine is to the flowers smiles are to humanity.

It is possible, of course, to be too enthusiastic over the importance of cheerfulness. To confront every situation with a cheerful grin is neither humanly possible nor would it tend to effectiveness of action. Always to look at the silver lining which is supposed to border every cloud, and not observe the cloud itself, is also likely at times to be a mistaken policy. But the habit of seeing the best side of every event, while giving a certain necessary attention to the other side, is one which is very well worth the while of every person to cultivate.

There is a difference between being cheerful and being mirthful. The latter condition should be accidental, arising naturally out of the occasion, and the occasion seldom be laid for it. Cheerfulness, on the other hand, is something which, being a habit of mind, can be made continuous. It is as natural to the heart of a man in strong health as color to his cheek, and where it is lacking, unless temperamental infirmities be the cause, there must be ill-health, excessively severe labor, or erring habits of life.

Carlyle, although he did not succeed in making Mrs. Carlyle very cheerful, recognized to the full the value of cheerfulness, and at least in his writings did much to impress its importance upon people. "There is no greater everyday virtue than cheerfulness," he wrote in one of his works. "This quality in man among men is like sunshine to the day, or gentle renewing moisture to parched herbs. The light of a cheerful face diffuses itself and communicates the happy spirit that inspires it. The sourest temper must sweeten in the atmosphere of continuous good humor."

The person who has a cheerful nature is in possession of a very valuable asset in life, and, fortunately, it is a disposition which can be cultivated and does not depend, except in a minor way, upon inherited traits. It is a positive duty to be cheerful where possible, and the occasions when it is not possible are only those exceptional ones when all rules seem to fail. To brood over hopes unrealized or to fear calamities to come is only to fasten a chain on our thoughts which makes for inefficiency and renders success improbable.

The cheerful live longest in years and accomplish more for every year that they live. Simply as a selfish propensity it is abundantly worth cultivating, for it is a form of riches, and riches are what most of us want.

German Acuteness.

The egg cups imported into India at one time all came from Great Britain. The Indian eggs are, however, very small, and the egg cups did not fit. A German traveler noticed this small item and got his firm to make smaller egg cups and export them there. All the trade is now in German hands.

In Africa the scissors imported from Sheffield were found to be rather dangerous weapons to place in the hands of the natives, owing to their sharp points. The Solingen Steel works sent a lot of round-pointed scissors out, which found favor, and now Germany has captured the whole market. From "Germany of the Germans."

College Student to Wed.

Miss Bertha Robinson, of Cambridge, Mass., is to be the first married undergraduate at Wellesley college. Miss Robinson, who is in her junior year, has just announced her engagement to Arthur W. McLean, a Boston lawyer. President Hazard and Dean Pendleton, of Wellesley, have granted her a leave of absence to prepare for her coming marriage, with the understanding that she shall be allowed to return next September as a member of the senior class and obtain her degree the following June.

School Code Constitutional.

By a vote of four to three the State Supreme Court last week refused to declare unconstitutional the School Code passed by the Legislature last year. The majority opinion which was written by Justice Von Moschzisker and concurred in by Chief Justice Fell and also by the following justices: a whole the code is constitutional but that the only matters before the court were the powers of and the limitation upon school authorities in districts of the first-class to raise money and contract for the erection of school houses. The majority holds that the section in the code providing for this is valid. The majority of the court holds that the constitutionality of the various sections of the code can be determined from time to time as cases arise involving the validity of its different provisions. The majority admits that sections of the code may be open to criticism. In discussing the classification of school districts made by the code the majority holds that the subject was one for the legislature and that no court should set up its idea of a scheme of classification.

Denouncing the code as special legislation and fundamentally wrong the three justices in the minority, Brown, Stewart and Mestrezat, filed a joint opinion which was written by Justice Brown. "A fundamental principle of a republican form of government," the minority of the court holds, "has been ignored in sustaining the act of 1911 and this is to be deplored." The school boards in Allegheny and Philadelphia counties, the minority said, are appointed by the judges and they have the right to levy tax. This the minority holds is taxation without representation. In the country districts the school boards are elected by the people and the minority holds that this makes the code special legislation. The case comes to the Supreme Court from Allegheny county.

REPORT OF GRAND JURY

To the Honorable Court:

We the Grand Jury, respectfully and unanimously report that we have passed on 18 indictments and found them all true bills. That we visited the jail and find that owing to the easy means of, and frequent escapes from the jail yard, the prisoners are not allowed the use or freedom of the jail yard. That they are confined within the cells and corridors, that the rear door being locked from the outside is a menace to the safety of the prisoners in case of fire. That the sewerage is in a very bad condition, being unsanitary, and that the jury would recommend that there be a better sewer system installed, that the dwelling part of the jail is in good condition. That we visited the Almshouse in all its departments, and find everything in excellent condition, being well kept, cleanly and healthy, being a credit to the steward and keepers.

Miss Sunbonnet

By Suzanne Glenn

(Copyright, 1912, by Associated Literary Press.)

A neat, white picket fence stretched between the two gardens.

The gardens were as equal in excellence as two gardens very well can be; perhaps the garden of the little white cottage may have contained a few more flowers than the garden of the big white house. But even that was a question.

Jeannette Perry sat in her tiny grape arbor thinking hard. She was thinking about James Harper. How could anyone, knowing the circumstances, sit in the Perry garden and not think of James Harper?

"Good morning, Miss Sunbonnet," he had said on the very first morning she ventured into the garden, as he endeavored to get a glimpse at the face under the faded pink folds.

When the girl lifted her head, the man gave a start of astonishment at the steady, questioning brown eyes and serious, sweet lips.

"I—I beg your pardon," he stammered. "I thought you were a child."

"I am glad you are neighborly," she answered simply, "since our gardens adjoin. Perhaps you will not mind showing me how to do things? I never made a garden before."

"If only you will let me," he cried eagerly.

So it came about that James Harper worked in the Perry garden as much as he did in his own, and every plant, every flower spoke loudly of his presence.

Jeannette was very happy in her Eden. While she dug in the soft earth on her side of the trim picket fence, her heart seemed to grow unaccountably mellow and receptive. As she planted the seeds and tended the young plants at James' direction, other invisible seeds were sown that

"I'm Glad You Are Neighborly," produced roses in her cheeks and music in her voice.

"You are a great gardener, Miss Sunbonnet," James often observed, "and you seem to grow with it. I am getting jealous; you are beating me."

"It is because I love everything so—they cannot help growing for me!"

"You are a little girl, after all," he said, smiling indulgently.

And still Jeannette did not understand, did not comprehend what it all meant, until Lucile Emerson came to the big white house.

Lucile was tall and studiously graceful. She wore wonderful, clinging gowns, and arranged her hair in a manner not conducive the wearing of sunbonnets. She monopolized James, she rode his horse, she demanded his attention, and she called him "Jimmie" with the utmost freedom.

So Jeannette sat in her little arbor and thought her poor, unhappy thoughts, and fought for strength to go on with her ordinary, colorless living.

Two persons occupied the larger arbor in the garden of the big white house. After a comfortable fashion they sometimes had when together, each was interested in a bit of reading.

After a time the girl closed the book in her lap and looked at her unconscious companion.

"Jimmie," she said presently, "I've made a discovery about you, and I hope you are not going to deny it!"

Harper's smile was an amused one. He always found this girl's unexpectedness entertaining.

"So?"

"You are interested in this young person next door, and I want you to tell me about her."

The "young person next door" clasped her hands over her thumping heart, dreading to hear his answer, and yet not daring to disclose herself.

"She is a very nice young person, Lucile," said James calmly.

"Nice? I should hardly think that the word, Jimmie. I—I do not know just the word to describe her, but it certainly is not 'nice!'"

"It is a little difficult, Lucile, and I do not know that there is any occasion for you to worry your pretty head at it."

"Sugar-coated, like all your sarcasm! Well, there just is occasion, my boy, where you are concerned. Tell me, how came you to be such friends—and do you really care?"

"We are friends because our gardens adjoin, and because country people have a way of getting acquainted over the garden fence. And of course I like her, because, as I told you, she is a nice little girl."

"But that is not the point. Do you care enough to forget that she is in no possible way suited to you?"

"One cannot forget what one never knew, dear child."

"But, Jimmie, you are such a scholar, so learned that you discomfort even me. I can discover nothing in which she is really posted."

"You know very little about her, Lucile. I have never known of her reading anything I was not interested in, at least."

"And she is quiet and dependent, and afraid of things, where you have always admired a fearless woman. I dare say she never rode a horse in all her life."

"I believe she is a bit nervous about horses," he admitted with his indulgent smile.

"Oh, I see there is not use in talking. Facts, however glaring, have no effect upon a man in love."

"So that is what all this means? You think I am in love with Miss Perry? I thought you more discriminating, dear second-cousin Lucile! I merely like her very much, because, I repeat, she is a very nice girl!"

"I think you expressed it better this morning when you called her Miss Sunbonnet."

"Still, remember there is something under the bonnet," advised James, walking away with provoking good humor.

Jeannette in her arbor, sat in motionless misery.

"It is all true," she whispered; "he admires a woman who is capable and bright and fearless, and I am a plain, stupid little thing afraid of my own shadow. Lucile loves him—and he loves her only he doesn't understand it yet, any more than I did until she came and set fire to my very heart."

Until long after darkness had settled, she sat motionless with her thoughts.

"Now when it is too late I have overcome one of my deficiencies," she thought bitterly as she sat fearfully in the breathless night.

Across the sky streaked jagged gleams of lightning. Thunder crashed nearer and nearer. Then rain dashed into the frail shelter. But she smiled contemptuously, defiantly.

"Whatever makes my little Miss Sunbonnet so pale?" inquired Harper next morning as he crossed into the neighboring garden.

"I am not pale," denied Jeannette, flushing uncomfortably. "And I wish you would call me by my name; that other sounds too foolish, really!"

James wondered vaguely. But before he could investigate this new turn of affairs, Lucile called from the porch that she was ready for her ride.

"You'd better look out for Jet this morning," he cautioned as she mounted the uneasy black horse. "She is nervous as a witch."

"You must know I am utterly unafraid of a horse," answered the girl loud enough for Jeannette to hear. "A few miles of this fine, open road will quiet her, never fear."

Jeannette shivered as Jet pranced out of the gate.

"I could never ride like that," she said aloud. Then she saw James' admiring glance toward the graceful girl on the flying horse, and hastened to the back of her garden.

An hour later Jeannette was working with the roses at the front gate. A clatter of hoofs told her of the rider's return. But why was Lucile clinging so desperately to Jet's neck, her white face half concealed by her loosened hair and the horse's flying mane?

Jet was plunging wildly, uncontrollably. The moment she comprehended, Jeannette flashed through the gate.

"Nothing must happen to Lucile," she sobbed frantically. "He loves her; he loves her!"

Wildly she waved her bonnet before the oncoming horse. As Jet slackened and half turned, Jeannette clutched the loosened bridle. The horse swung round and stopped, evidently weary from her run. Lucile slipped limply to the grass, unharmed.

"Jeannette, Jeannette," cried Harper, rushing to her and loosening the bridle from her fingers.

At sight of her white cheeks he took her suddenly in his arms.

"You are sure you are not hurt?" he cried sharply. "Oh, Jeannette, what made you do it? You might have been killed!"

"I wanted to save Lucile," she whispered.

James Harper looked at her with eyes through which his heart spoke. Color returned to her pale cheeks, and at sight of it he stooped and kissed her tenderly, reverently.

"Precious little Miss Sunbonnet," he whispered.

HOME POOR PLACE TO WORK

Best, Whenever Possible, That Man Should Be Away from the House in Daytime.

The man of the house should not be the man in the house all day long, if it can be helped. If he be an artist with a studio at home, a minister with a study at the top of the house, a physician with office hours, or any other man who is accustomed to carry on his work at home, the household accommodates itself to him, and in a sense ignores his presence. It is true that he is constantly subject to interruptions when he works at home, his wife softly opening the door to say, "The milkman has called for his bill, and cannot make change," or "Somebody has asked for you at the door. Will you not go down and see him?" or, "Do pardon me for breaking in upon your work, but Aunt Jennie has just telephoned that she is coming to luncheon. Won't you step over to the butcher's and get a porterhouse steak?"

It is not quite ideal for the man of the house to do his work at home. For his personal convenience and comfort it is preferable that he should do it elsewhere. The temptation to run in upon him, to read a letter, tell a bit of news or ask advice, is too great for the average woman to overcome.

Also, he gains something in the estimation of the family by going away in the morning and returning at night, while for himself there is the manifest advantage of a charming and restful change of scene when he steps within his front door to be stormed upon with kisses by the children and welcomed by his true comrade and partner on the road.—Woman's Home Companion.

PECULIAR PRAYER TO COURT

Error of Stenographer Responsible for a Few More Gray Hairs in Head of Lawyer.

"They say that a lawyer has been saved by his stenographer," said an attorney, at a recent lecture. "That is true, undoubtedly, because a lawyer's stenographer, who is observing, gets many points of law out of her work."

"But there is another side to it that must not be overlooked, and that is the mistakes that a lawyer's stenographer makes. The law terms are so technical that it is not within reason to expect the stenographer to get everything exactly right."

"One of the most amusing errors that I have ever heard of in connection with stenographic errors, if I may call it that, occurred in a certain law office the other day. The case was a divorce action, in which the plaintiff alleged cruel and inhuman treatment."

"Plaintiff, being a woman with all the common law disabilities, prayed the court for temporary alimony and suit money." The prayer was dictated to the stenographer and she wrote it out and mailed it to the court.

"Shortly afterward, the lawyer chanced to read a copy and found to his horror that the stenographer had made the prayer one for alimony and soup money."

When Child Is Restless.

The principal cause of restlessness and sleeplessness in children is indigestion, usually brought on by unsuitable food, overfeeding or irregular meal hours.

If a child cries a great deal, is restless and loses sleep, look to the food and the time at which it is given.

Another cause of sleeplessness which is frequently overlooked is too much light in the room. It is natural to sleep in the dark, and it is particularly desirable that children should do so, for they are very sensitive to all impressions.

The tender eyes and brain need the complete rest and relaxation that darkness permits. In spring and summer, when the sun rises at five o'clock or earlier, children will wake unless the room is kept darkened.

A green blind is best for this purpose, and it is advisable to use it in the child's bedroom if nowhere else.

Busy Chinese Hens.

It would appear that the hens of China find life more real and earnest than enjoyable, for, it is said, when not hatching out broods of their own kind, the additional and novel task of hatching fish eggs is thrust upon them. Chinese owners of hens collect fish spawn, introduce it into empty eggshells, hermetically seal them and place them under the deceived and conscientious hen. In due time the shells are removed and the spawn, now warmed into life, is emptied into a shallow pool. Here the fish which appear are nursed and guarded until strong enough to be turned into a lake or stream, and subsequently added to the edible resources of the people.

"Big Seller" of 1758.

In more hardy days than these snuff was used as an eye liniment. "The Compleat Housewife, or Accomplish'd Gentlewoman's Companion," which had run into 16 editions by 1758, extols its virtues. Accomplish'd gentlewomen who find their sight failing with advancing years are advised to rub "the right sort of Portugal snuff into the eyes, night and morning, and take it also through the nose." This treatment, it is asserted, "cured Sir Edward Seymour, Sir John Houbton and Judge Ayres, so that they could read without spectacles after they had used them for many years." Some people would prefer spectacles.

Conowago Drowning.

Catherine Latshaw of Reading township was accidentally drowned in Conowago Creek on last Saturday. She lived with her son Charles Brown near the East Berlin Milling Co. plant. She was born deaf and dumb and during the past year her mental powers had been failing so that she had to be watched to prevent her walking away. On last Saturday her son Charles Brown and wife went to York leaving a son and daughter at home to take care of their grandmother. She wandered away unknown to them. Discovering her absence at about 11 o'clock, the children with neighbors started on a search of the country round about and along the banks of the Conowago. About 3 o'clock in the afternoon the body of Catherine Latshaw was found above the dam in 10 feet of water. They discovered a point along the bank where she had evidently slipped and fallen, showing that the drowning was an accident. She was aged 89 years, 6 months and 5 days. The funeral was held Tuesday morning, services by Revs. S. S. Miller and W. H. Miller with interment at Mummert Meeting house. She is survived by her only son Charles Brown, four grandchildren Ira, of Philadelphia; William, of York and Curtis and Emma at home and 5 great grandchildren.

Law and Order.

If the peace and good name of this town is to be maintained something must be done. A year ago when I was hurled to the ground by Policeman Shealer and his assistant Swope I promised myself that if dirty work like that occurred again I was going to publish them. On last Thursday morning, May 16, Councilman George Shealer did the very thing that he did last year, drove in on the railroad ground to solicit passengers. When Policeman Shealer saw his father drive in he started to walk up town instead of saying to his father that he must not do that. Next Frank Lott, next Samuel Vaughn and others drove in. When the train came in who was on the train but Burgess Holtsworth. Next he ordered in his teams and then you should have heard what went on while they were on the platform soliciting all the passengers. It was in plain violation of the ordinances and a species of lawlessness by borough officials and others. The protests of Mr. J. A. Cox were totally ignored. If officials engage in this lawlessness what can be expected of the rest of the hackmen and the peace, good order and fair name of this community. I went before the Town Council two years ago and asked them to adjust the hack licenses and nothing has been done notwithstanding under the present regulations a man who hacks with a surrey pays $5 and there are men with four horse teams who pay only $3 for such a team and there are teams with no licenses, I appeal to the Town Council to at once take the above matters in hand. The town needs all the taxes a uniform tax rate would bring and the peace and good order of the town demands that borough ordinances regulating hackmen at the depots be carried out without respect to any persons or officials or special privileges to any.

Like Finding Money.

L. M. Buehler, the popular druggist is making an offer that is just like finding money for he is selling a regular 50 cent bottle of Dr. Howard's celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half-price. In addition to this large discount he agrees to return the money to any purchaser whom the specific does not cure.

It is quite unusual to be able to buy fifty cent pieces for a quarter, but that is what this offer really means, for it is only recently through the solicitation of Druggist L. M. Buehler that this medicine could be bought for less than fifty cents. He urged the proprietor to allow him to sell it at this reduced price for a little while, agreeing to sell a certain amount. The result has justified his good judgment for the sale has been something remarkable.

Anyone who suffers with headache, dyspepsia, dizziness, sour stomach, specks before the eyes, or any liver trouble, should take advantage of this opportunity, for Dr. Howard's specific will cure all these troubles. But if by any chance it should not, L. M. Buehler will return your money.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN BY RAYMOND F. TOPPER, an applicant for admission to the Bar of the Supreme Court of the State of Pennsylvania and a registered student at law in the office of John D. Keith, Esq., of the Adams County Bar, that he will on or before Tuesday, the 11th day of June, 1912, file credentials with, and make application to, the State Board of Law Examiners to be examined by said Board on the 2nd and 3rd days of July, 1912, for admission to the Bar of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.
